

Top 10 Traits of Quality Schools

and the types of schools likely to display them

Among 20 traits of schools, those listed here were ranked by respondents as the ten most important characteristics of a quality education. The numbers in parentheses are the percentages of respondents who rated the trait as 8, 9, or 10 in importance on a scale of 1 to 10. The numbers in the bars for "Independent" and "Public" are the percentages of respondents who said the particular type of school does a better job of realizing the trait. The numbers in the bar for "Both Do Well" are the percentages of respondents who saw both types of schools achieving the feature equally.